MANHATTAN HOUSE.

NO. 68 DUANE-STREET, NEW YORK.

JAMES RYAN, from the Howard House, Boston, respectfully informs the public, that he has taken the large building in Duane street, 6 doors from Broadway, known as Rutger's College, for the purpose of a HOTEL and RESTAURANT. The interior of the building has been entirely taken out, and refitted expressly to suit the business of the present occupant.

Mr Ryan will keep the Manhattan House for the accommodation of Clubs and Parties. The best wines and Liquors will be furnished from his cellar, having been carefully selected from the best stocks in Boston, a large portion of them being of the celebrated stocks long in the cellar of Mr Gallagher, late of the Exchange Coffee House. Rooms will be furnished for References and Courts Martial. Transient and permanent boarders will be accommodated in the best style known in the country; and elegant apartments will be let, with or without board.

The Table d'Hote will be supplied with every delicacy of the various seasons. Breakfasts, Dinners and Suppers, of every description, will be served at short notice, and various Soups will be ready every day from eleven to three. Mr Ryan is confident that in this department, his own experience, added to the skill of the persons employed as cuisiniers, will enable him to please the most fastidious epicures, both in respect to quality and style.

Those friends who have known the character of Mr Ryan's House in Boston, he is assured, will find his accommodations better, his means more ample, and his diligence quite as untiring; and from such strangers in this city, as love excellence in the various departments of his profession, he would beg the favor of an early call, with the full hope of giving satisfaction.

☞ House was opened on the 15th June, 1837. eptf je17

MARLBORO' HOTEL.

The subscriber would respectfully give notice that he has taken the MARLBORO' HOTEL, and is now ready to see his friends. The house has been thoroughly repaired, enlarged, and neatly painted and papered. The furniture and bedding are new, and the accommodations in every respect are believed to be equal to any other Hotel in the city. No pains will be spared to furnish the table with every variety the market affords. Efforts will be made to furnish the table with the products of free labor, and provision will also be made for those who prefer vegetable diet. Religious worship will be regularly maintained every day, and as far as possible to prevent, no company be received or bills will be settled on the Sabbath. No smoking allowed. The Hotel will be kept entirely on the Temperance principles, and while not a particle of intoxicating liquor will be sold or used, it will be a quiet home for gentlemen travelling with their families, as well as for others. There are several suits of rooms for the accommodation of small families as permanent boarders. Application for permanent board will be received at the Hotel every day.

NAVY GUN-POWDER.

Navy Commissioners' Office,
October 30, 1837.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at this office until three o'clock, P. M. of the 15th day of November next, for furnishing nine hundred barrels of cannon, and ninety barrels of priming powder, at each of the navy yards at Charlestown, Massachusetts, Brooklyn, New York, Gosport, Virginia. The proposals must be made separately for each navy yard; and the offers for each will be considered without reference to the offers for other navy yards.

The powder must be manufactured in the best manner, and from the best and purest materials—must be glazed, and be granulated of such size, and be subject to such tests and inspection as the Navy Commissioners may direct for ascertaining its strength, density, and ability to resist the action of humidity without serious deterioration. The strength of the powder will be determined by the distance which one ounce, avoirdupois weight, will throw a twenty-four pound ball from the navy eprouvettes.

The average range of the whole quantity under every contract must be equal to 250 yards, and no barrel of powder will be received of which the range shall not exceed 200 yards.

In selecting the powder for the proofs, one sample will be taken from near one of the heads, and one from near the centre of each barrel—and if the two ranges from the same cask shall differ more than twenty yards, a third sample shall be fired to determine the mean range for that cask, otherwise the mean of the two ranges shall be taken as the mean range of the cask. The test for determining the density and ability to resist moisture will be comparative; and the powder must, in these respects, be perfectly satisfactory to the Commissioners of the Navy, or it will not be received, whatever may be its strength.

The whole of the said powder must be packed in good, sound, dry, well seasoned, substantial copper hooped casks, of such dimensions that, with one hundred pounds of powder in each, a space of two inches will be left between the powder and the head, when standing on end. The hoops must be eight in number for each barrel well riveted, one inch in width, of uniform thickness, and the weight of the hoops not less than sixteen pounds on each barrel.

The whole quantity of each denomination of powder must be delivered on or before the first day of May, 1838.

The persons contracting will be furnished, upon applying to the Navy Commissioners, with necessary directions, to show the size to which the powder is to be granulated.

Persons making proposals, must state the price asked per pound, including all the expenses of casks, copper hoops, packing, and delivery, and every other expense to them, attending the fulfilling the contracts to be made, excepting the charge and expenses of inspection and proof, which will be provided and borne by the Government.

No payment will be made upon a less quantity than is required at any one of the navy yards, nor until the same shall have been delivered, inspected, tested, approved and received, to the entire satisfaction and approbation of the Commissioners of the Navy, or such other persons as they may appoint. No extension of the time stated for delivery will be granted.

Ten per centum will be withheld from the amount of all payments on account of the contract or contracts to be made, not to be paid until they are in all respects complied with.

COMMON SEWERS.—Notice is hereby given to all persons interested, that the Mayor and Aldermen, at their room in City Hall, on MONDAY next, at 4 o'clock, P. M. will take into consideration the expediency of laying the following common sewers, viz: in Front street, on the petition of Arnold F. Welles, for John Welles and others: in Berry street, on the petition of Charles W. Ayres: and assessing the expense thereof according to law, upon those whose estates shall be benefitted thereby. Any person objecting to the same or either of them, may then and there be heard.

By order of the Mayor and Aldermen.

ROWLAND'S MACASSAR OIL.

THE high repute and extensive sale of Rowland's Macassar Oil, throughout the world, has induced speculators to imitate the label, even to forgery, and impose on the public base imitations, instead of the original.

Also, adventurers, to gain a trifle more profit, have introduced into the United States counterfeit imitations, composed of deleterious ingredients, injurious to the hair, to the serious injury of the proprietors and the public.

To prevent such imposition, A. Rowland & Son respectfully solicit particular attention on purchasing the original Macassar Oil; each bottle is enclosed with a treatise on the hair, in an envelope, tastefully executed, with the names of his agents on each pamphlet.

The signature and address is red, on a pattern of lace work, similar to a banker's cheque.

"A. Rowland & Son, 20 Hatton Garden,"—countersigned "Alex. Rowland."

Also, each bottle has the name and address of the Agent on the label—Mr J. A. DICKSON, Music Saloon, Cornhill, formerly Market street, Boston.

☞ Particular attention to this caution is necessary, as the proprietors cannot be responsible for the serious injury resulting from the use of base imitations.

For sale, by appointment of A. Rowland & Son, by their Agent, at 34 and 36 Cornhill, (late Market street,) wholesale or retail. M&Tis3w—ostf my31

COUGHS & COLDS

VEGETABLE COUGH COMPOUND, for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Spitting of Blood, Pain in the side and all diseases of the Lungs. This valuable medicine has been extensively and constantly used for several years past, and so unfailing has been its effects in all cases in which the lungs have not ulcerated, that it is now recommended to the public as an infallible remedy and relief for all the above diseases. It is composed entirely of Vegetable ingredients, and perfectly harmless in its operation.

A NEW DISCOVERY IN THE VEGETABLE KINGDOM.

BY DOCT. BONAUD, of Marseilles. By means of this newly discovered Medicine, every kind of Sickness which afflicts the human body may be cured. By its perfect harmony with the animal mechanism of man, it becomes an efficacious remedy—an antidote against all kinds of accidents to which the body is subject.

The following is an explanation of its mode of operation The active principle is the blood, which when it ceases to flow in its regular action causes sickness. As this medicine is a corrective of the blood, and as its tendency is to restore it always to its natural state, every disease is, therefore, controlled by its power. It contains no mineral ingredient; no poisonous substance, whatever, but is purely vegetable in its character. It is to be administered by doses according to the situation of the patient. Many have been restored to HEALTH by the application of it.

Dr Bonaud, the inventor, gives his patients advice gratis.

The unfortunate maladie known by the name of Spyhilis and all others of the same family, are infallibly cured by the purification of the blood.

Apply for information to Dr Bonaud, at his office Barrister's Hall, Court Square, near School street, Boston, at 9 o'clk a. m., and 4 p. m.

SPECIFIC COMPOSITION.

No mineral nor corrosive substance, neither any kind of irritating poison is contained in this remedy, but it is exclusively formed by a combination of simples obtained from the double influence of vegetable life and chemical action.

Persons pronounced incurable, or those who are given over by their physicians, by having recourse to Dr B will often find surprising benefit.

Boston.

About three months since my child, then three years and 1½ months old, was taken ill with a disease of pain in the stomach and light vomiting. In a day or two after she complained of pain in the head. I then applied to one of the first physicians in the city, and asked his advice. After attending the child three or four days, I was told by him that her complaint was dropsy in the head. After applying leeches, blistering, bathing, &c. and holding consultation with a celebrated physician, they pronounced her complaints incurable. At this time she had lost her sight and speech and continued in this situation for 17 days, during which time she appeared in great distress attended with spasms. Having understood, by a friend, that there was a gentleman in the city by the name of Auguste Bonaud, who had recently arrived from Marceilles, and who had at that place performed many remarkable cures; I was induced to apply to him. He immediately called to see the child. He pronounced her complaints such that a cure might be effected, and proceeded to administer medicines which in the course of a few days, restored her sight and speech, and removed the spasms; and she now appears to enjoy perfect health.

J. FREDERICK GUSTUS.

We certify to the above, MARY RAND,
PETER LAWRENCE.

For the good and comfort of my fellow creatures I shall inform them, that 7 years since I was afflicted with a nervous sickness, accompanied with liver complaint, which deprived me of sleep and appetite. At that time I called on Dr Bonaud, who administered to me his medicine, and caused a great improvement in my health.

Mrs HANNAH GODDARD, Roxbury.

For the comfort of mankind, I wish to publish the marvellous effects of Dr Bonaud's Vegetable Medicine.

A chronic inflammation in the chest deprived me of my health and put me in a painful and dangerous situation. Having understood of Dr Bonaud's numerous cures I called on him, and after taking three doses of his medicine, I recovered my health and natural strength.

JOHN WHITEHEAD, No 17 North Square.

My obligations to Dr Bonaud for the good which I have received from him, make me desirous of making them known to the public. I was very low from the ravages of an inflammation of the bowells, united with fever. At this time I called Dr Bonaud to my assistance, and three doses of his excellent medicine were sufficient to restore me to health, and enable me to recommence my occupations.

DAVID MEALVIN, No 3 Langdon Place

About 4 months ago, being on board the brig Diante, (master) coming from the East Indies, I was affected with the diarrhœ, accompanied with a daily fever; I had lost my appetite and my natural strength. At last I was so ill that I did not hope to be cured. I was in that bad state when I arrived in Boston; I had been a boarder of Mr Gustus, who told me that his daughter had been cured by Dr B. I called him instantly, put myself under his care, and after ten doses of his medicine, took in 20 days, I was perfectly cured.

WILLIAM STOKMAR.

My three children were attacked at the same time very severely by the same disease, and I began to despair of their recovery, when I fortunately availed myself of the assistance of Dr Bonaud, who, having administered his medicine, in a short period they recovered entirely from their sickness.

J. GILLING, No 7 Langdon Place.

My daughter, aged 2½ years, was attacked by a violent fever which in a very short time reduced her to a very deplorable situation. In this extremity I called upon Dr Bonaud to succor her; and by his administration of his valuable remedies, she was in eight days restored from sickness to perfect health.

MARY B. DOLLIVER, No 36 Salem st.

During the last four months I was very ill, and was attended by the best physicians of Philadelphia. After having submitted myself to their care without any improvement of my health, they ordered me to travel to Boston, where having heard of the good effects of Dr Bonaud's medicine, I called upon him, and after taking one dose of the above medicine, I was perfectly well and returned homed.

MR MARTIN, 36 Salem street.

Boston, Commercial street.

About 3 months ago my son was affected with inflammation of the chest, with several cancers on the mouth, when 10 days Dr Bonaud's treatment have been sufficient to procure him a perfect health.

Dr Bonaud—Sir: For the good of my fellow citizens, I wish to write you this; with the request that you will publish it—The great obligation you have conferred on me because of the astonishing cure of my daughter, who was taken ill with a brain fever, and which your marvellous medicine cured in a short time, will always make me extremely grateful to you.

With respect,

MEHITABLE JOHNSON, No 4 Langdon Place.

Sir—The astonishing effects which your medicine has accomplished, cause me to write this to you as a testimonial of my gratitude. After taking three doses of your medicine, I was perfectly cured of a festule which I have had 3 months on the right breast.

I pray you to receive this in gratitude for the good I have received from you.

ZORADA BALDREY.

Charlestown.

Our daughter, 9 months old, was taken sick with convulsions; after 4 days severe illness, and having but little hopes of her recovery in this state of illness, we saw Dr Bonaud's notice. We called on him—he gave her his medicine, and after 8 days of his attendance, she enjoys good health.

CAROLINE WINGATE.

Boston.

Last Saturday, the 13th, my child, aged 5 years and 1 month old, was taken very suddenly with apoplexy, and inflammation through the system, and complained of a great deal of pain and distress. Saturday afternoon about 6 o'clock, she was taken in a violent fit, and was senseless for more than two hours. I then sent for Dr Bonaud, by the advice of my friends. She took his medicine, and in 6 days she was about the chamber. I would advise the public to patronise him with safety.

GROSS IMPOSITION. CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

IT is well known to many of our citizens that MR. ROWLEY, No 9 Pearl place, has discovered a valuable glutinous substance, denominated GOLD PURIFYER AND GOLD VARNISH, which he applies to gilt frames and gilding of all kinds, which not only adds to their brilliancy, but renders them perfectly water proof.

The high reputation which this article has gained, having stood the test of many years and having been used and approved by hundreds of our most respectable citizens, has induced several unprincipled men to pretend to a similar discovery; in the application of which they have injured many valuable frames. Among the many pretenders to this valuable art, is one George Crocker, a young foreigner, who, having copied Mr Rowley's advertisement verbatim, and having falsely declared himself the discoverer of the Gold Varnish, has applied a spurious substance and has in several instances done great injury to frames, by rubbing off the gold in attempting to cleanse them, and by applying a spurious article. Having examined frames varnished by Crocker, I find that the substance used by him has none of the essential qualities of the Gold Purifyer and Gold Varnish.

Of the above solution, the undersigned was the original discoverer, and has used it for many years, in thousands of instances, with the most perfect success—nor has the secret of its preparation ever been communicated to any one. Such impositions as that practised by Crocker should meet with deserved reprobation, by all who would cherish the useful arts and encourage the spirit of discovery and invention

POETRY.

A SPORTING PROBLEM.

From the Spanish of Xerica

Diana once we are informed,
With cruel and revengeful wrath,
Actæon to a stag transformed
For venturing too near her bath.

Those who beheld his antlers grow,
With reason might exclaim, "Defend us!
"If horns like these, chaste folks bestow,
"What might the other class not send us!"

LONDON AND PARISIAN FASHIONS FOR OCTOBER.

White and printed muslin dresses, which have enjoyed such general favor during the summer, are not yet entirely laid aside; they still show themselves on every warm day, though robes of thicker texture are beginning to be numerous. Foulard and pou-de-soie of various patterns, maire, mousseline de laine, &c. are in the majority With these dresses are worn large cashmere shawls, for the reign of mantelets is at an end, at least until they reappear, wadded and trimmed with fur. For walking dresses flounces are decidedly fashionable; but they are not adapted to evening or ball dresses, for which various other kinds of trimming are employed. The skirts continue exceedingly long and wide; and we are happy to observe that the ungraceful fashion, introduced some time since, of wearing the dresses longer in front than behind, is quite exploded. Sleeves quite tight, without any kind of trimming or ornament, have now disappeared. The most elegant form of sleeve is that termed the manche batelière. But the suppression of tight sleeves does not extend to short ones, especially those of ball dresses, which are frequently quite tight to the arm, with no trimming, except very full and deep ruffles of blonde. In general, however, only the foundation of the sleeve is made tight, and is profusely trimmed with frills, ruches, or bows of ribbon.

Bonnets of crape, organti tulle, or gauze, are now banished. Gros de Naples is more fashionable than ever. The indispensable ruche is still worn round the edge, and not unfrequently at the top of the crown. On bonnets of Gros de Naptes and pou de-soie we have remarked bows en choux, formed of figured ribbons. At the edge of the ribbon is sewed a narrow blonde, which gives a very light and pretty effect to the bow itself, and adds grace to the flowing ends which hang so low as nearly to reach the shoulder. It is quite certain that silk bonnets of every description will be worn much smaller than they have been during the past summer. Plush or velvet, either plain or figured, promise to be the most favorite materials for winter bonnets.

The Parisian milliners have just introduced a cap called the Nepolitaine, which is at present in high favour. We will endeavour to describe its form A square piece of lace, lined with pink silk, is trimmed all round with narrow lace set on full. From the two corners at the back part of the head are suspended long barbes of lace, which fall on the shoulders. This square, which forms the crown of the cap, is placed very backward on the head, and is fastened by large gold-headed pins, which complete its similitude with the head dress worn by the Neapolitan females. The hanging barbes are a little deviation from the correctness of the imitation, but they have a very graceful effect, and they serve to shade the bosom and the uncovered arms, authorized by the fashion of the day.

The following is among the most elegant morning costumes which have recently come under our observation. A peignoir of plain white muslin, edged all round with a trimming formed of plaited muslin. The two corners in front of the peignoir were rounded off, so as to display the under jupon, likewise of muslin, but trimmed with a flounce. The sleeves wide, the corsage en chale, with a very wide waist ribbon of pale lilac. Slippers of lilac pou de-soie, embroidered with white silk. White lace mittens.

There is not much change in the style of dressing the hair. The back hair, whether arranged in plaits, twists, or curls, is confined so low at the back part of the head, that the flowers, bows of ribbon, &c. with which it is ornamented, almost descend on the neck. The front hair, whether arranged in clotildes or curls, is worn very much off the forehead, consequently the crowns of hats and bonnets are necessarily reduced to very small dimensions, in order to show the front hair.

The fashion introduced last year of trimming straw and Leghorn hats with velvet has been again partially revived. We have seen one or two Leghorn hats very elegantly trimmed with light green and lilac velvet, and on one side a bunch of climatus or dahlias.

A variety of elegant little ornaments are worn suspended round the neck: small crosses attached to narrow velvet ribbonds, and chains fastened by padlocks, are much in vogue. Brooches too are indispensable for the completion of the toilette. The most fashionable are of engraved cornelian, which has quite superseded mosaics and cameos.

The Parisian bulletins of fashion mention a novel and curious head ornament recently worn by the Duchess of Orleans. It was brought from Smyrna, and presented to the Duchess by one of her brothers-in-law. The ornament consisted of two semi-circles formed of Venetian sequins, placed on each side of the forehead, and descending on the cheeks in a manner similar to the Swiss plaits recently worn. These sequins diminished gradually in size, and were fastened under the plait at the back of the head. The two semi-circles were connected by a narrow gold fillet, forming a bandeau on the forehead. It is impossible to convey an adequate idea of the piquant effect of this head-dress. It harmonized admirably with a robe of white muslin trimmed with gold, which the Princess wore on the same evening.

THE NORFOLK ADDRESS.

This, no less than the similar documents from other counties, from which we have given extracts, affords excellent commentaries upon the political affairs of the country, and appeals to the patriotism and good sense of the people in a manner well calculated to stir them up to the faithful performance of their duty on Monday next.

The present position of Massachusetts—in whig parlance, a position of "solitary grandeur"—is first considered, and the evils resulting from the obstinate hostility to other States of the Union, constantly exhibited in the surly and arrogant policy of those who unfortunately have been allowed to manage affairs in this commonwealth, are held up in vivid colors. We quote the subsequent language of the address on this point:—

"There is another point of view under which the furious opposition to the general government, which is kept up by the party prevailing in this Commonwealth appears particularly unreasonable. There has always been throughout New England, and especially in Massachusetts, a good deal of jealousy in regard to the comparative influence in the government of different sections of the Union. We have complained long and loudly of southern preponderance. The South monopolized the Presidency. If the North succeeded now and then in electing her man, he was violently opposed, and not permitted to serve out the usual term. We will not at present undertake to examine the justice of these complaints. Let it be admitted for the sake of the argument that they have some foundation in truth, that northern interests have not always had their full share of attention in the councils of the Union. At length, however, the scene changes. The South acknowledges your claim. She joins you in electing a Northern President. She proposes for your suffrages a candidate who dwells within twenty miles of the Massachusetts line. What then is your course? Do you accept the offer with a good grace? Do you cheerfully waive your preference for a candidate from your own State, and concur in electing the one whom your Southern brethren consider more eligible? Far from it. You stand out in 'solitary grandeur.' You throw away the vote of the State. You resist the election of a northern candidate more violently than you before resisted that of any candidate from the South. Mr Van Buren is a favorite at the South: therefore the North will have nothing to do with him. When the South refuses to support your candidates you are angry with the South for opposing you. When the South is willing to support your candidates you reject and oppose them because they are supported by the South. At this rate, fellow-citizens, we are not very likely under any circumstances to obtain much influence in the councils of the Union."

The Address further maintains that it is only by adopting such a course of conduct as will tend to harmonize the feelings of the people in that most important section of the country, the South, that any great public measures can be successfully accomplished.

"Our present chief magistrate, by the union of consummate political sagacity with a singularly discreet and conciliatory temper had effected this great object. Sacrificing no principle, true to all the essential interests of the North, he had yet succeeded in satisfying the South that he was also ready to do full justice to all her well founded claims.

"So far as Massachusetts was prepared to act upon northern feelings and interests, she ought to have seized with alacrity this favorable occasion for giving the ascendency in the councils of the Union to her own section of the country. But no! She is not satisfied that the North should hold the reins of government, in the only way in which we can ever hope or ought to wish to do it, with the willing concurrence of our southern brethren. We must rule the South as a conquered province We must set our foot upon her neck as a fallen foe or the administration is not worth having."

We next have in the Address a review of the principal measures of Gen Jackson's administration. These measures are ably defended. The whig rabbis of this State are reminded of their expressions of admiration in Faneuil Hall, excited by the proceedings of the national government in reference to Southern nullification in 1832—and Mr Webster is reminded of his assertion at Pittsburg, that the President had been "TRUE TO EVERY DUTY."

Upon the banking question the Address justly avers that "to effect a reform of this system has been the principal object of the general government and the democratic party throughout the country. To resist this reform has been the chief object of the opposition."

The following spirited passage closes the Address:—

"The President, the great representative and leader of the democratic party, has in his late message, thrown himself manfully into the breach, regardless of the fury of opponents and the wavering of doubtful friends. He invites the democracy throughout the Union to come forward and sustain him by their votes. If they do not he must fall and the monied power reign triumphant on the ruins of our liberty. Will old Massachusetts, the Cradle of the revolution, the original head quarters of democracy, reform, and political improvement for the whole world, prove false to liberty at such a crisis? Will she not rise in her strength, rescue her government from the banking influence by which it is now controlled and bring it into harmony with the spirit of the general government, of the country, of the age!"

The objects of the Democracy.—We copy the following sensible article from the Bristol County Democrat, as expressive of the objects of the democracy in seeking a reform in our banking system:—

"A word to bank stockholders.—The whig party in order to carry the election, are resorting to the most disingenuous and dishonest courses. They are constantly charging upon the Democrats views which they do not entertain, and have never expressed. Among other things, the whigs charge the democratic party with wishing to destroy all Bank property, prostrate credit, and make gold and silver the sole circulating medium. The whigs who make this assertion know it to be false, but they make it in order to frighten the holders of bank stock. Now the democrats have never wished to cause any holder of Bank Stock to lose any part of his property vested in Banks—their object is rather to prevent the loss of property. Our object is not destruction but security. We wish such a reform in the system of banking as will at the same time give safety and security to the stockholders and to the public. We wish no more bank paper to be issued than can be redeemed, so that the public may be safe. We wish that money borrowers should not have any longer the entire control of banks, so that stock-holders may be safe. If the great money borrowers had not controlled the Banks, bank stock would not have depreciated as it has during the past summer. How have the banks lost money, and the stock-holders accordingly been injured? Because a few money borrowers have controlled the banks and obtained money for their speculations, and neglected or become unable to repay it. They could control the funds of the banks, while the honest working-man could not obtain a dollar. Why have the banks suspended specie payments? Is it not because they have extended their loans too far to accommodate the large money borrowers who have been allowed to control the bank operations? Is it not, therefore, the interest of the stock-holders as well as the community to have the system reformed?"

☞ The Salem Advertiser, Gloucester Democrat, Haverhill Banner, and Lynn Record, are contending manfully for the success of the people in their great struggle against the enemies of equal rights, in old Essex. Their efforts are sustained by an indefatigable phalanx of intelligent and patriotic men. If they don't win the field, on Monday next, they will give the Bank forces a hard battle—and then replenish for a new campaign. The flag of the persevering and united democracy of Essex is nailed to the staff, and its defenders will stand by it with undiminishing energy till it floats in triumph over prostrated whig toryism.

Plymouth County.—The election will be sharply contested in this county. The federalists are straining every nerve to bring their odious cause into the ascendant there. They calculate largely upon the effects of their pressure and panic machinery, and the declamation of travelling candidates. The democrats appear to be awake and ready to meet the philistines. Their candidates for the Senate, (Messrs Thompson and Fogg,) are unexceptionable—staunch democrats, and efficient supporters of the administration. They have co operated with the democratic party long and arduously in their efforts to build up the cause of truth in Massachusetts. The excellence of the cause and the worthiness of the candidates are calculated to stimulate every democrat to extra efforts at the polls on the coming Monday, We hope to hear a good report from them.

A bitter pill for whig office-seekers and ruinvenders.—The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser says that "never in any year has the fall business, in that city, been as good as it is at present."

The legitimate effects of the policy of the government and of the democratic party, begin to appear. The undue thirst for speculation is checked, and business is rapidly coming up in an honest and healthy condition. The deceptions of the whig press must soon cease to operate to the advantage of a corrupt and desperate faction.

Mr Webster is travelling and spouting politics, according to his old custom. We learn that he has been pressed into the service by the whigs of Plymouth, and is to hold forth there to-morrow. This is the way the grand sachems among the federal office-seekers always happen to drift about, just on the eve of an election. Lyceums and even Churches are prostituted to aid whiggery.

Some of the merchants of New York have again been prevailed upon to meet in conclave to oppose and denounce the Administration. Strange! The interests of no class have been more vigilantly guarded by the government, during the last eight years, than those of the merchants. How blind their opposition!

☞ A correspondent who signs his communication "A Unit on Foot," thinks that the Lancers are puffed too much, and the Infantry not praised as much as they deserve to be. Speaking of the Lancers on the "Indian day," he says—

"More than one Lancer was 'cut out' from among the crowd by the efficient aid of a few rifles and bayonets.

"I wonder some editors do not puff the Independent corps of Cadets; the community ought to thank them for preserving the grass by sitting upon it; they were certainly patriotic and very obliging, as were the other ladies, in allowing the canaille to look over their bonnets."

☞ At the anniversary celebration of the State Fencibles, at Philadelphia, on the 30th ult., the following sentiments, from gentlemen of this city were drank:—

By Capt. Macomber, of City Guards, of Boston. The State Fencibles of Philadelphia—The brilliant reception and kind attention to the wants of the Guards in eighteen hundred and thirty-one can never be effaced from our memories.

By Capt. Baxter, of Montgomery Guards, Boston. The Volunteer Citizen Soldiers of Philadelphia—They well exemplify the two leading points in military life; discipline with its officers, subordination for its soldiers.

☞ The three important discoveries—the manufacture of Gunpowder; the use of the Compass, or the polarizing influence of load stone; and the art of Printing, were first known to the Chinese. The first from time immemorial, the second as early as A. D. 121, and the last, printing, about the year A. D. 950.

The whig rumor about changes in the Cabinet is corroborated.—Boston Post.

We are inclined to think the word not should be inserted after "is" in the above—we do not find the confirmation in any other paper.—Eastern Argus.

☞ You are right, neighbour—the word "not" was accidentally omitted by the compositor.

The Thanksgiving Festival will be observed in five different states on the same day, this year, viz:—Massachusetts, Maine, New York, Connecticut, and Michigan. What havoc will be made in the feathered population!

☞ The New York Press, as well as the Boston, speak in the most complimentary terms of Mr Gill's Reports. Where can a more amusing volume be found for a winter's fireside? We advise our country friends to procure it forthwith, or the edition may be exhausted.

Hamlet will be played by Mr Pelby, at the National theatre this evening, and Metamora by Mr Forrest, at the Tremont. Mrs Muzzy is not so successful in Mameokee as in some other characters.

The Harpers have published the 2d volume of the Life of Aaron Burr.

LATER FROM FRANCE.

By the packet ship Louis Phillippe, Capt Castoff, Paris dates to the evening of Oct 9th, and Havre to the 10th, inclusive, are received at New York.

The French Expedition against Constantine was expected to arrive before that city Oct 6th.

Paris, Oct 9.—A telegraphic despatch received yesterday, announces the death of the Dutchess of St Leu (queen Hortense.)

The Journal of Agram, in Austria, announces that the city was visited, on the 22d ult., with a violent shock of an earthquake, coming from the north to south, and preceded by a subterranean noise like the distant rolling of thunder. Not a single house escaped without being damaged. Several walls were split, and roofs uncovered. The thermometer in the shade was at 15 degrees of Reaumur or 65 3-4 Fahrenheit; the barometer was 28 inches.

Havre, Oct 9.—Sales 608 bales Cotton at 89 a 91f; 4 mill Whalebone at 1 55. Sales 10th, 421 bales Cotton at 89 a94f.

Tragical Proceedings.—On Tuesday last, as we learn from the New Haven Herald, an Irish traveller stopt at a public house, kept by Mr J. P. Marshall, in Woodbury, Conn., and after making some inquiries about the road, went to a magistrate's office, to deliver himself up, pretending that he had been robbed and otherwise abused on the road. Mr Phelps, the magistrate, referred him to Mr Judd, the deputy Sheriff. He went off, divested himself of most of his clothing in the street, and again returned to the office of Mr Phelps, from which he was ordered out. About half-past 6, he returned to Marshall's bar room, armed with a knife, where, without any quarrel or provocation, he assaulted a young man named Daniel Peck, inflicting three wounds in the breast and abdomen. He also attacked Mr Marshall, giving him several dangerous wounds in the abdomen. Mr M. then gave an alarm, and fled into the sitting room, where was Mrs Swift, the widow of Dr Swift of Bristol.

The assassin followed, and struck Mrs Swift with the knife through the right cheek to the tongue, and again in the breast, which fortunately struck a steel busk, and thus lost its effect. Mrs Preston, an aged lady, mother-in-law of Mr Marshall, hearing the alarm, came into the room, and was in her turn assaulted, receiving a severe and dangerous wound in the abdomen, from which the intestines protruded. The assassin then retreated behind a door, where he cut his own throat, the knife passing near the carotid artery and the wind pipe. By this time a sufficient number of persons had assembled to secure him, which was effected after much difficulty. It is supposed that the assassin is a maniac escaped from confinement. The extent of the injury inflicted on himself had not been ascertained at 11 o'clock, Tuesday night.

☞ On the First Page will be found extracts from the Address to the democrats of Norfolk County. We feel confident of the ability of the friends of the national administration to elect their Senatorial ticket in Norfolk, if they make proper exertions, and we trust that the importance of the election will induce them to bring all their strength into the field.

☞ Whitney, of the Cornhill Coffee House, has been induced to re-establish his ordinary, which he intends to keep fully supplied from his varied and well-stored larder. When the weather, or business, lays an embargo on one's going home to dinner, a quiet cut at the Ordinary is just the thing.

One good turn deserves another.—The Journeymen Printers turned out for higher wages at Louisville, the other day, and their employer turned them out of employment.

Mr Wolfe has written a letter to the Editors of the American Sentinel in which he declines being considered as a candidate for the office of governor of Pennsylvania at the next election.

The Lowell Advertiser has his eye on the federalists of Middlesex—he'll trim 'em up on Monday next, we guess.

Ten dollar bills of the Railroad Bank, says the Lowell Advertiser, are in circulation, altered from Fives.

☞ Mr Harker has sold out the Baltimore Republican, to Messrs. Busk & Cox. It has been ably conducted by Mr Harker, and we hope will prove as efficient an advocate of democracy in the hands of Messrs. B. & C. as it was in Mr H's.

Philadelphia Punning.—The United States Gazette lets off the following—

"A friend who relishes alike a pun or a play, desires us to say, 'Mr Maywood had a bumper on Monday night—May-WOOD have another to-night.'"

Mr Charles Monteil, of the firm of F. & C Monteil, of Baltimore, was drowned in the river at that place on the 1st inst. He lost his life in attempting to rescue a negro lad who had been upset in a batteau.

The quantity of flour which arrived at Albany and Troy, from the 22d to the 31st Oct. amounted to 67,466 bbls.

Good.—The Knickerbocker for November—at Weeks, Jordan & Co's. An engraved likeness of Henry Russell, the vocalist, is contained in the present number.

James Primrose has been appointed by the President, Consul of the United States for the port of Pictou, in Nova Scotia.

☞ THE MEETING AT THE OLD COMMON COUNCIL ROOM, TO-NIGHT should be fully attended—let there be no flagging. Seven o'clock is the hour.

☞ Democrats of Boston, see that your names are on the voting lists. There has been a great deal of scratching since the last election.

The Woodworth Benefit, the New York Sun says, will probably yield about $2000.

"'Muckataimesbekakaick' is squeezed out," says the Gloucester Democrat—we should think it would squeeze out everything of decent length.

A man in Germantown, Pa. has raised a lemon which weighs three pounds!

The health of Mobile was fast improving on the 28th ultimo.

Twelve thousand barrels of Flour arrived at New York city from Albany on Wednesday evening.

Mitchell's capture of the Susquehannah turns out to be a whig victory.

The Bangorians say that they have a hog that will weigh half a ton! He grunts for Kent.

Secretary of the Treasury.

POLICE COURT.

False Imprisonment on board of the Steamboat Portland.—This was a criminal prosecution brought by Capt Barnes, a respectable ship master, against Capt Coyle, commander of the Portland. Mr Gray appeared as counsel for the Complainant, and Mr Andrews for the Defendant. The circumstances which led to this prosecution, were the following:—

The week before last, Capt Barnes took passage in the Steamboat for Portland, but in consequence of the roughness of the weather, she was obliged to put into Gloucester, instead of pursuing her trip. For two reasons, he concluded to leave the boat, and perform his journey by the Eastern Stages, viz: his business did not admit of uncertain delay, and it appeared to him that there was not water enough on board for a voyage protracted beyond the usual length of time. Before going on shore, he demanded back his fare from the clerk, who referred him to Capt Coyle, who was not to be found, and he went on shore, without his fare. Capt Barnes then procured a conveyance for 25 miles from Gloucester, intercepted the Eastern stage, and proceeded to Belfast, and having completed his business there, went to Portland, and joined the boat for the purpose of returning to Boston.

After the Portland got underway, and the Clerk was collecting the fares from the passengers, Capt Barnes waited upon Capt Coyle, and told him, that as he had not performed the former trip for which he had paid, but had felt obliged to go on by land, he considered that he ought not to be held to pay for his passage up. Capt Coyle would not agree to this. There was considerable discussion, in which each maintained his own supposed rights, but apparently so far in a becoming manner; but when the boat arrived in port, Capt Coyle refused to allow Capt Barnes to land, until he had had an opportunity to consult counsel, although Capt Barnes offered to give him his word of honor, that he would meet him at any hour and place during the day, to settle the question which was right on the point in dispute. Capt Barnes also referred to two persons on board, who vouched for his respectable character, and that he would fulfil his pledge. Capt Barnes had no baggage, but was sufficiently supplied with cash, and only wished to be understood as contending for his rights. Capt Coyle, however, placed him under the surveillance of the steward and a couple of hands, with whom he took breakfast, while the Captain got into a hack, and proceeded to Mr Andrews' dwelling, and called him out of bed, to advise him in the premises. Mr Andrews advised him to permit Capt Barnes to leave the boat, and rely upon an action for debt for redress. Capt Coyle then returned to the boat, and liberated Capt Barnes, whose detention lasted just fifty-five minutes.

Capt Coyle admitted that Capt Barnes had stated the facts correctly.

Mr Andrews, in his argument for the Defence, did not raise any point of law, but commented with some degree of asperity and personality on the conduct of Capt Barnes.

Mr Gray, for the Complainant, laid down the law briefly, but did not recriminate upon Capt Coyle the personalities thrown out against Capt Barnes in the argument for the Defence.

Judge Simmons, in summing up the evidence, at the outset dismissed from the case all inquiry respecting the fare; for however that point might be decided, in a suit for debt, there could be no possible doubt that Capt Coyle had no legal right to prevent Capt Barnes from going ashore upon the arrival of the boat. In reference to the imputations cast upon Capt Barnes's conduct by the Defendant's counsel, his Honor said that it did not appear, but that both of the parties behaved like gentlemen, and maintained what they honestly believed to be their respective rights, in a gentlemanly manner, although Capt Coyle in the sequel had made a mistake in detaining Capt Barnes. It was not a case, in which a legal wrong had been done for the gratification of temper, or for the purpose of inflicting punishment, and therefore did not call for a vindictive penalty. It was true, that Capt Barnes had been detained about an hour, but in that time he had taken his breakfast, and could not be supposed to have lost much time, especially as it was before business hours. Under these circumstances, his Honor considered, that a fine of Three Dollars and Costs would sufficiently vindicate the law, and admonish the Defendant and others not to violate it in like manner hereafter.

Marine Disasters.—The wreck of schooner Peggy Thomas, has been towed into Squam harbor, masts, sails, bulwarks and stancheons gone—lumber in the hold and full of water.

In the gale at St. Joseph, Florida, brig Planet, of Portsmouth, was run ashore, with loss of cables and anchors—will probably be got off at a small expense.

In the hurricane at Galveston, Oct. 14, brig Perseverance, (of Kennebunk) from Baltimore, was driven ashore, high and dry, and cannot be got off. Brig Elbe, of New York, is high and dry on the beach, dismasted. Brig Jane, schs Select and Henry, of Baltimore, are high and dry on the beach. Sch. Velasco, which sailed from New Orleans Sept. 20, for Galveston, had not arrived Oct 14: she had 70 passengers.

At Matamoras, brig Union, of Philadelphia; schs. Belle, of New York, and William, of New Orleans, are complete wrecks. Brig Henry Patterson, of New Orleans, went ashore three miles south of the Rio Grande, and is a total wreck.

The schr. Vigilant, of Eastport, having sixty barrels of mackerel on board, was driven on Plymouth beach, on Monday morning last, having previously broke her anchors. The crew were all saved, and the mackerel have since been landed. It is said that her keel and stern post have both been started, and that she will not probably be got off.

A gentleman holding a high ministerial office in Greece married, about the end of last month, the sister of his brother's wife, contrary to the ecclesiastical law of the country. He has, in consequence, been excommunicated by the Bishop of Attica, and the anathema pronounced against him extends not only to himself, his wife, and children, but to all those who speak to them, salute them, or hold any communication with them.

Of all the Austrian provinces none has increased in prosperity so much as Lombardy. In 1836 the population amounted to 2,500,000 inhabitants. The schools are in a flourishing condition, and the number of their pupils daily increasing. Milan has become the chief seat of the fine arts.

In the Elector of Bavaria's Palace, at Munich, are preserved, among the varieties, two ecclesiastical books—one written by the Emperor Maximilian; the other covered with an embroidery of pearls and precious stones, wrought by Mary, Queen of England.

Among other curious particulars derived from statistical data there are three,—in meat, wine, and medicine,—that are worthy of remark. The quantity of butcher's meat consumed in this country is as twelve to one, compared with any other country (the northern portion of America excepted) in the world; there is fifteen times more Port wine drank than is imported; and Morison's pills are said to pay an amount of duty unparalleled in the annals of medicine.

Treaty with the Winnebagoes.—A treaty with the Winnebagoes was signed yesterday, at the War Office, by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, on the part of the U. States. Their title to land east of the Mississippi is extinguished, and they are to remove to that part of the neutral ground, west of that river, which was conveyed to them in 1832. They also relinquished their right to occupy, except for hunting, a strip of land twenty miles in width, adjoining and west of the Mississippi. They are to receive—in goods, provisions, agricultural assistance, education, the payment of their debts, and the claims of their relatives of mixed blood, and in permanent income, secured by investments in safe stocks—$1,500,000. In consequence of of the indisposition of the Commissioner, but few public councils have been held with the Winnebagoes.—Globe of Thursday.

Taken on sundry writs and will be sold by consent of parties, at public auction, on Wednesday, Nov. 15th, at 12 o'clock, M. at Eastern Steamboat wharf,

The splendid Steamer PORTSMOUTH—said boat was built in Salem, Mass. by Messrs Barker & Grant, for the Boston and Portsmouth Steamboat Company, of the best materials and under the immediate inspection of Capt Thomas Howe, her late master, and every attention paid to make her a strong and first rate steamboat—and she has proved herself not to be inferior to any boat of her size. Her dimensions are as follows—

Length on deck	142 feet
Breadth of beam	20 feet 2 inches
Depth of hold	9 feet, and measures about 217 tons.

She is thoroughly copper fastened, and is sealed up diagonally abreast of the engine and boiler. Her engine was built in Providence, by the Rhode Island Steam Engine Company, of the following dimensions—cylinder 36 inches diameter, 8 feet stroke—one large iron boiler, placed under deck, and will burn either wood or coal. She was completed and put on the route between Boston and Portsmouth on the 20th of June last, and has not lost a trip since that time. She has a full inventory for a day boat, which may be seen on application to the Auctioneers.

INDIGESTION, JAUNDICE AND BILIOUS COMPLAINTS. ANDERSON'S VEGETABLE ELIXIR, for Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Jaundice and Bilious Complaints weakness of the Stomach and Bowels, and consequent loss of appetite; nervous complaints, headach, sour stomach, flatulence and habitual costiveness.

This medicine is composed entirely of vegetable substances is perfectly safe in its operation, and may be given to children or persons of the most delicate habit, without the least risk of inconvenience.

The uniform success which has attended the use of it where it has been extensively used, in Boston and various other parts of the United States, and in the West Indies, attested by disinterested and highly respectable persons, affords, next to a trial of the medicine itself, the best commentary upon its virtues, and the best recommendation which can be offered to those who are unacquainted with it.

Extract of a letter received from a gentleman in Boston, who had suffered severely from indigestion for three years. 'During this time, I suffered very much from mental depression, constant pain in the head and breast, and side, sharp shooting pain over almost the whole system—the food that I ate seemed to pass into my lungs and there remain, giving me great pain attended with a strong degree of heat. At times, I suffered so much from the pain of indigestion as to be confined to the bed for two or three days. During one of these most severe attacks I was induced by the advice of a friend to try your Vegetable Medicine. In the course of a few weeks I found myself much better, and by the time I had taken two bottles, considered myself wholly free from the complaint. I continue, on the least feeling of any thing like indigestion or pressure on the stomach, to take about a table spoonful of it, which, in the course of a few hours completely restores me. It has had with me a very wonderful effect, in strengthening the stomach and invigorating the whole system, and judging by my own case, I consider it in all diseases connected with the digestive organs to be a very valuable medicine.

It has been found singularly efficacious in cases of the most obstinate headache.

It is put up in large bottles containing a pound and a half and sold at seventy-five cents each, by Jonathan P. Hall, Jr. No. 1, Union street, John P. Whitwell, Milk street, John I. Brown, near Boylston Market, Erastus S. Holden, near the Western Avenue, Richard A. Newell, Summer street, Boston Samuel Kidder & Co. Charlestown, E. G. Lemon, Roxbury.

DR GORDAK'S JELLY OF POMEGRANATE AND PERUVIAN PILLS.

AN unrivalled remedy for Nervous Headache, Dizziness in the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, Oppression of the Breast, Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Costiveness, Darting Pain in the side, back and limbs.

For impurities of the blood, such as Canker, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Leprosy, &c. it is one of the greatest vegetable Medicines ever offered to the public.

The Jelly of Pomegranate and Peruvian Pills are given in all cases in which Dr Gordak calculates to give satisfaction. Additions of other vegetable medicines are given according as the diseases differ.

The public are cautioned not to purchase Medicines prepared and invented by me, of pedlers, especially those who carry their medicines from New Ipswich; they are not likely to get the genuine.

For sale at my office, No 59 Union st, nearly opposite the First Baptist church. Also at my residence, in the new brick house, corner of Richmond and Salem streets, Boston.

The following certificates will prove that Dr Gordak's medicines are worth public notice. The cures effected are of such nature that most of the patients could get relief by no other medicines.

Boston, March 3, 1837.—John Boden, No 37½ Prince street, cured of an obstinate, very obstinate cough, attended with pain in the left side, of very long standing.

Boston, May 17, 1837.—Mary Jane Reckner, No 32 Pleasant st, cured of a long standing cough and dull headache, when no other medicine did even relieve her.

HUNTER'S PILLS!—INJECTION POWDERS!! AND CERATE!!!

THESE long established preparations have met with a very extensive sale in the City and State and throughout the Union. They were prepared by the late Dr Conway for above fifteen years, and administered with unrivalled success during that period.

The Pills, when used with the Injection Powders and Cerate, (when the latter are required) effect a thorough and rapid cure of the

from the slightest infection, to the most inflammatory stages, and of every other species of the disease, even after the poison has entered the circulation, and the whole habit has become tainted. The timely administration of these Pills has saved thousands of unhappy sufferers from all those calamities incident to the disorder, when, by neglect, it is suffered to become deeply rooted in the constitution.

The most plain and ample directions, together with a popular treatise, explaining the various symptoms, and the method of treatment, accompany each box of the Pills—by means of all which, persons of either sex may cure themselves with safety, and at the dispatch consistent, with thorough security from the lurking virus in the system.

Price—Pills, $1 a box—Cerate and Injection Powders, 50 cents each.

☞ None genuine unless signed on the outside printed wrapper by the sole Proprietor, T KIDDER, immediate successor to the late Dr W. T. Conway. For sale, with all the other "Conway Medicines," at his Counting Room, No 99, next door to J Kidder's Drug Store, corner of Court and Hanover streets, near Concert Hall, Boston—and also, by his special appointment, by the Druggists generally in Boston and vicinity.

A large discount to dealers. jy15

A FINE HEAD OF HAIR.—Ladies and gentlemen wishing for that ornament, need only make a fair trial of the celebrated INDIAN OIL, which preserves the growth, and is so great a nourisher, as to prevent its turning grey, becoming shaded, or falling off; restores it on bald places, if the least root remains. Several gentlemen who were bald, have declared, that after using the Indian Oil regularly for six months, the bald places became nearly covered with hair. It is superior to any other article, for moistening the hair when dressing, as it gives a natural gloss, keeps in the curls, and prevents the ill effects occasioned by the heat of dressing-irons.

The Indian Oil also promotes the growth of whiskers, eyebrows, &c., and is particularly serviceable to persons wearing False Hair, as it gives a natural gloss, and renders it soft and beautiful.

JOSEPH GILLOTT'S CELEBRATED PATENT ELONGATED METALLIC PEN.—JOSEPH GILLOTT begs to inform the public that he is constantly receiving from his manufactory at Birmingham, a regular supply of his most approved Metallic Pens. The stock on hand comprises the best assortment in the United States, and of warranted good quality—amongst which may be found his—

Patent Magnum Bonum Commercial Pen—Original Patent Slip Pen—do do Ladies Pen—with elongated Points—Royal Letters. Patent granted Sept. 27, 1831.

Also—Double Damascus Barrel Pens—Lunars—Peruvian—New York Fountain—Damascus—and various other kinds—put up in a variety of styles, viz: on cards of one dozen, with rosewood and albata holders, in morocco cases, morocco cards and shell boxes.

Albata Everpoint and Pen and Everpoint Pencil Cases—Holders of every description.

CAUTION.

To the Public.—From the well-merited and universal celebrity of the above Pens, as attested by the whole mercantile community in Europe and the United States, several unprincipled makers have endeavored to impose upon the public, by a spurious imitation, purporting to be the original JOSEPH GILLOTT'S PATENT, but which are utterly worthless, and entirely destitute in those qualities requisite to fine writing, which have established such an unparalleled demand for the original in every country where it is known!!

The public are hereby cautioned to be upon their guard against these counterfeits, they may readily be detected by their unfinished appearance, and by the inferior style in which they are sent into the market, in their attempt to delude the unwary.

Further to guard against the fraudulent imposition, the public will please to observe that each groce of the genuine Pen is enveloped in a neatly printed wrapper, descriptive of the article it contains.

Each patent Pen marked thus, "Joseph Gillott's Patent"—and all other kinds are marked either "Joseph Gillott's Warranted" or "Joseph Gillott Maker"—in every instance the mark reading from the point of the Pen.

The above may be had, wholesale at 199 Beekman street, N. York, and GEO H. GRAY & CO. Boston.

Boston Truss Manufactory.

THE subscriber would respectfully direct the attention of the public, and of the medical profession, to his establishment at No 63 Court street and particularly refers them to the approbation of the eminent Surgeons, whose names he has the liberty to subjoin as evidence of the success which has attended his endeavours to improve the structure and enhance the utility of the Truss.

By his recent invention "The Anatomical Self Regulating Truss," he believes that the desideratum so long attempted, has been obtained, as in this instrument, the convenience of adaptation, the certainty of direct compression, and the advantages derived from the fact, that the management of the Truss, whether regarding neatness or adjustment, is practicable by the patient, have been made abundantly manifest.

Relying upon the long established, and as he hopes, deservedly, high reputation of his manufactory, he trusts that the patronage of the community will continue.

Trusses adapted to every variety of Hernie, whether in the infant or adult, for Umbilical Prolapsus and other analogous diseases—Suspensaries and in general every instrument of this class, are kept constantly on hand, or will be made at the shortest notice.

Artificial Legs are made and warranted to walk with ease, also, machines for remedying deformed or crooked Feet, which will be adapted to any case, according to its exigency.

Surgical and Dental Instruments of every description made and repaired.

Ladies wishing for either Trusses or Grecian Belts, can be attended by Mrs Beath.

It is presumed that the subjoined list of references will preclude the necessity of further remark.

TO THE PUBLIC.

OUR suit, in the late Circuit Court of the United States, at Hartford, Conn, against Josiah Danforth, and others, having established our right under the patent of William Lawrence, for the a second time, and decided that the UNION or FISH LAMP, of Alonzo Platt, is an invasion of our right; we hereby notify all persons to abstain from the use of the said Union or Fish Lamp. Those having the charge of public buildings, as well as all others, are requested not to suffer the use of those Lamps. We have been at great expense in purchasing the patent, and hope that a sense of justice will deter all persons from interfering with our rights; but if this notice is disregarded, we shall be compelled to shield ourselves from injustice, if there is power in the law to do it.

NATH'L. BACON,

IMPROVEMENT ON DENTAL SURGERY.

Dr B. T. PRESCOTT continues to perform all the necessary operations on the Teeth, both for their beauty and preservation.

Dr P. having obtained the latest and highly approved method of inserting the mineral or incorruptible Teeth on gold plate, so recently introduced in Paris, feels assured that he cannot fail to give a general and acknowledged satisfaction to all who may favor him with their calls.

Persons requiring operations on the teeth will please call and see specimens at office, corner of Hanover and Portland street.

N. B. Dentists supplied with Mineral or Incorruptible Teeth, European and American, wholesale and retail, on the most reasonable terms. Orders from the country promptly answered. je27

REMOVAL.

INCORRUPTIBLE PORCELAIN TEETH.—The subscriber returns his sincere thanks to the citizens of Boston for the liberal patronage he has received from them during the last year—he has now removed his office to a more central situation, and owing to the great number of teeth inserted by him daily, he is enabled to reduce his terms at least 50 per cent on all operations from this date. The average price for the best Porcelain Teeth will be, on gold plate $3, pivot $1 to 1 50, filling and cleaning 75 cents to $1, and all operations warranted for the term of five years. He will continue to visit persons at their residence and complete any operations in two visits half an hour each. He has within the last three years instructed several Dentists in this city, who are now practising with great success.

CHARLES J. HOUPT, No 11 Winter street.

N. B. A complete set of 24 teeth to masticate with ease, for a person that has no teeth, will be ready for inspection in one month, and one hundred dollars will be paid on presentation for a better specimen of workmanship. jan19
